Novelty Program At The Third Ward

Thursday evening nearly a capacity crowd were treated to a novelty program followed by dancing on the pavilion with the Third Ward Mutual hosts to the other three.

Jack Dahl was emcee for the program for which the theme was "In The Good Old Summer Time"—singing it as the opening number were Joyce Stevenson, Joanne Salmon, Kathleen Fairbanks, Jack Holt, Bert Fairbanks, and Alan Stevenson dressed in old fashion costumes. A medley of old tunes were played on the sax by Larry Dahl who was dressed in the style of the by-gone years after which his sister Sandra sang "Dance Me Loose" in a Dutch costume. Lynn Galbraith as a rag-tag boy recited "Dog Lost" followed by "Alice Blue Gown" rendered by Evelyn Melchin in the blue gown referred to. Jane's Blond Bombers added a note, or several, of hilarity with their Golfwog number, after which a young gentleman and his lovely lady, Denise Dahl and Margaret Jacobs, a snappy looking ducky sang "Summertime" and "Without A Song" followed by the closing number "Singing in the Chapel" by John Holmes.

Mrs. Melby Lybbert has returned home again after being a patient in Edmonton for two months at the University Hospital and Cancer Clinic. Her many friends are very happy to know that she is feeling much better and is pleased with the results of the treatments.

Guests at the Howard Rasmussen home are her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Deltz of Toronto.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomson this week were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Meldrum of Calgary who were accompanied by a nephew Ronnie of Winnipeg. They returned to Calgary on Thursday.

A high honor has been awarded Mrs. Dean Gibb (Gladys Peterson) of Edmonton through her work in dramatics. She directed a play for the L.D.S. Church that was entered in a competition with seven others with her play winning first award for the play and first award for stage setting. Later the play was entered in the Provincial Festival at Red Deer where Mrs. Gibb won a six week scholarship, valued at $250, at the Banff School of Fine Arts as best director. She will spend three weeks there this year and three next year.

Thanks From The YWMIA

The Taylor Stake YWMIA wish to express sincere appreciation to the many wonderful people who have assisted in the building of the Girl's Home in Waterton. It would be an impossibility to name all the jobs done just as it would to name all the people who worked and donated, so we just say "thank you, one and all," but especially those whose faith and confidence during the preliminary work was so helpful to seeing our goal completed.

Taylor Stake YWMIA.

Upon returning from a vacation at Castlegar, Mr. and Mrs. Max Court packed up some of their belongings and went back there planning to make their home in that B. C. town. They are presently staying with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Greep until they are able to locate a home of their own.

Double-ring Ceremony Unites Hazel Fairbanks And John Holmes

A double ring ceremony performed in the Alberta Temple recently by President Smita, Hazel Marie was united in marriage with John Richard the son of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Holmes. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fairbanks.

For the wedding, the bride chose a gown fashioned with a lace bodice and Peter Pan collar which was trimmed with seed pearls. Lace covered buttons were used both down the front and back of the bodice which tapered to a point to join the bouffant nylon net over satin skirt. Long gloves of matching lace were elbow length while the finger tip veil misted from a double circlet of pearl orange blossoms. A bridal bouquet of red roses individually encircled with white tulle completed the ensemble.

Lois Peterson and Bernice Baker wore gowns of mauve net and pink brocaded satin while Kathleen and Deanna Fairbanks were attired in light shades of green net and blue taffeta. Carol Holmes in a blue brocaded satin gown carried a colonial bouquet of carnations as did all the bride's attendants. Mrs. Fairbanks chose a light rose frock while the groom's mother wore a black afternoon dress; a corsage of pink carnations adorned both frocks.

Tom Holmes was his brother's best man, assisted by Robert Holmes with George Fairbanks, Lawrence Turner and Alan Van Orman ushers.

The bridal party received the guests against a backdrop of white and mauve streamers with a profusion of summer blossoms of daisies, delphiniums, stock and others making a lovely setting.

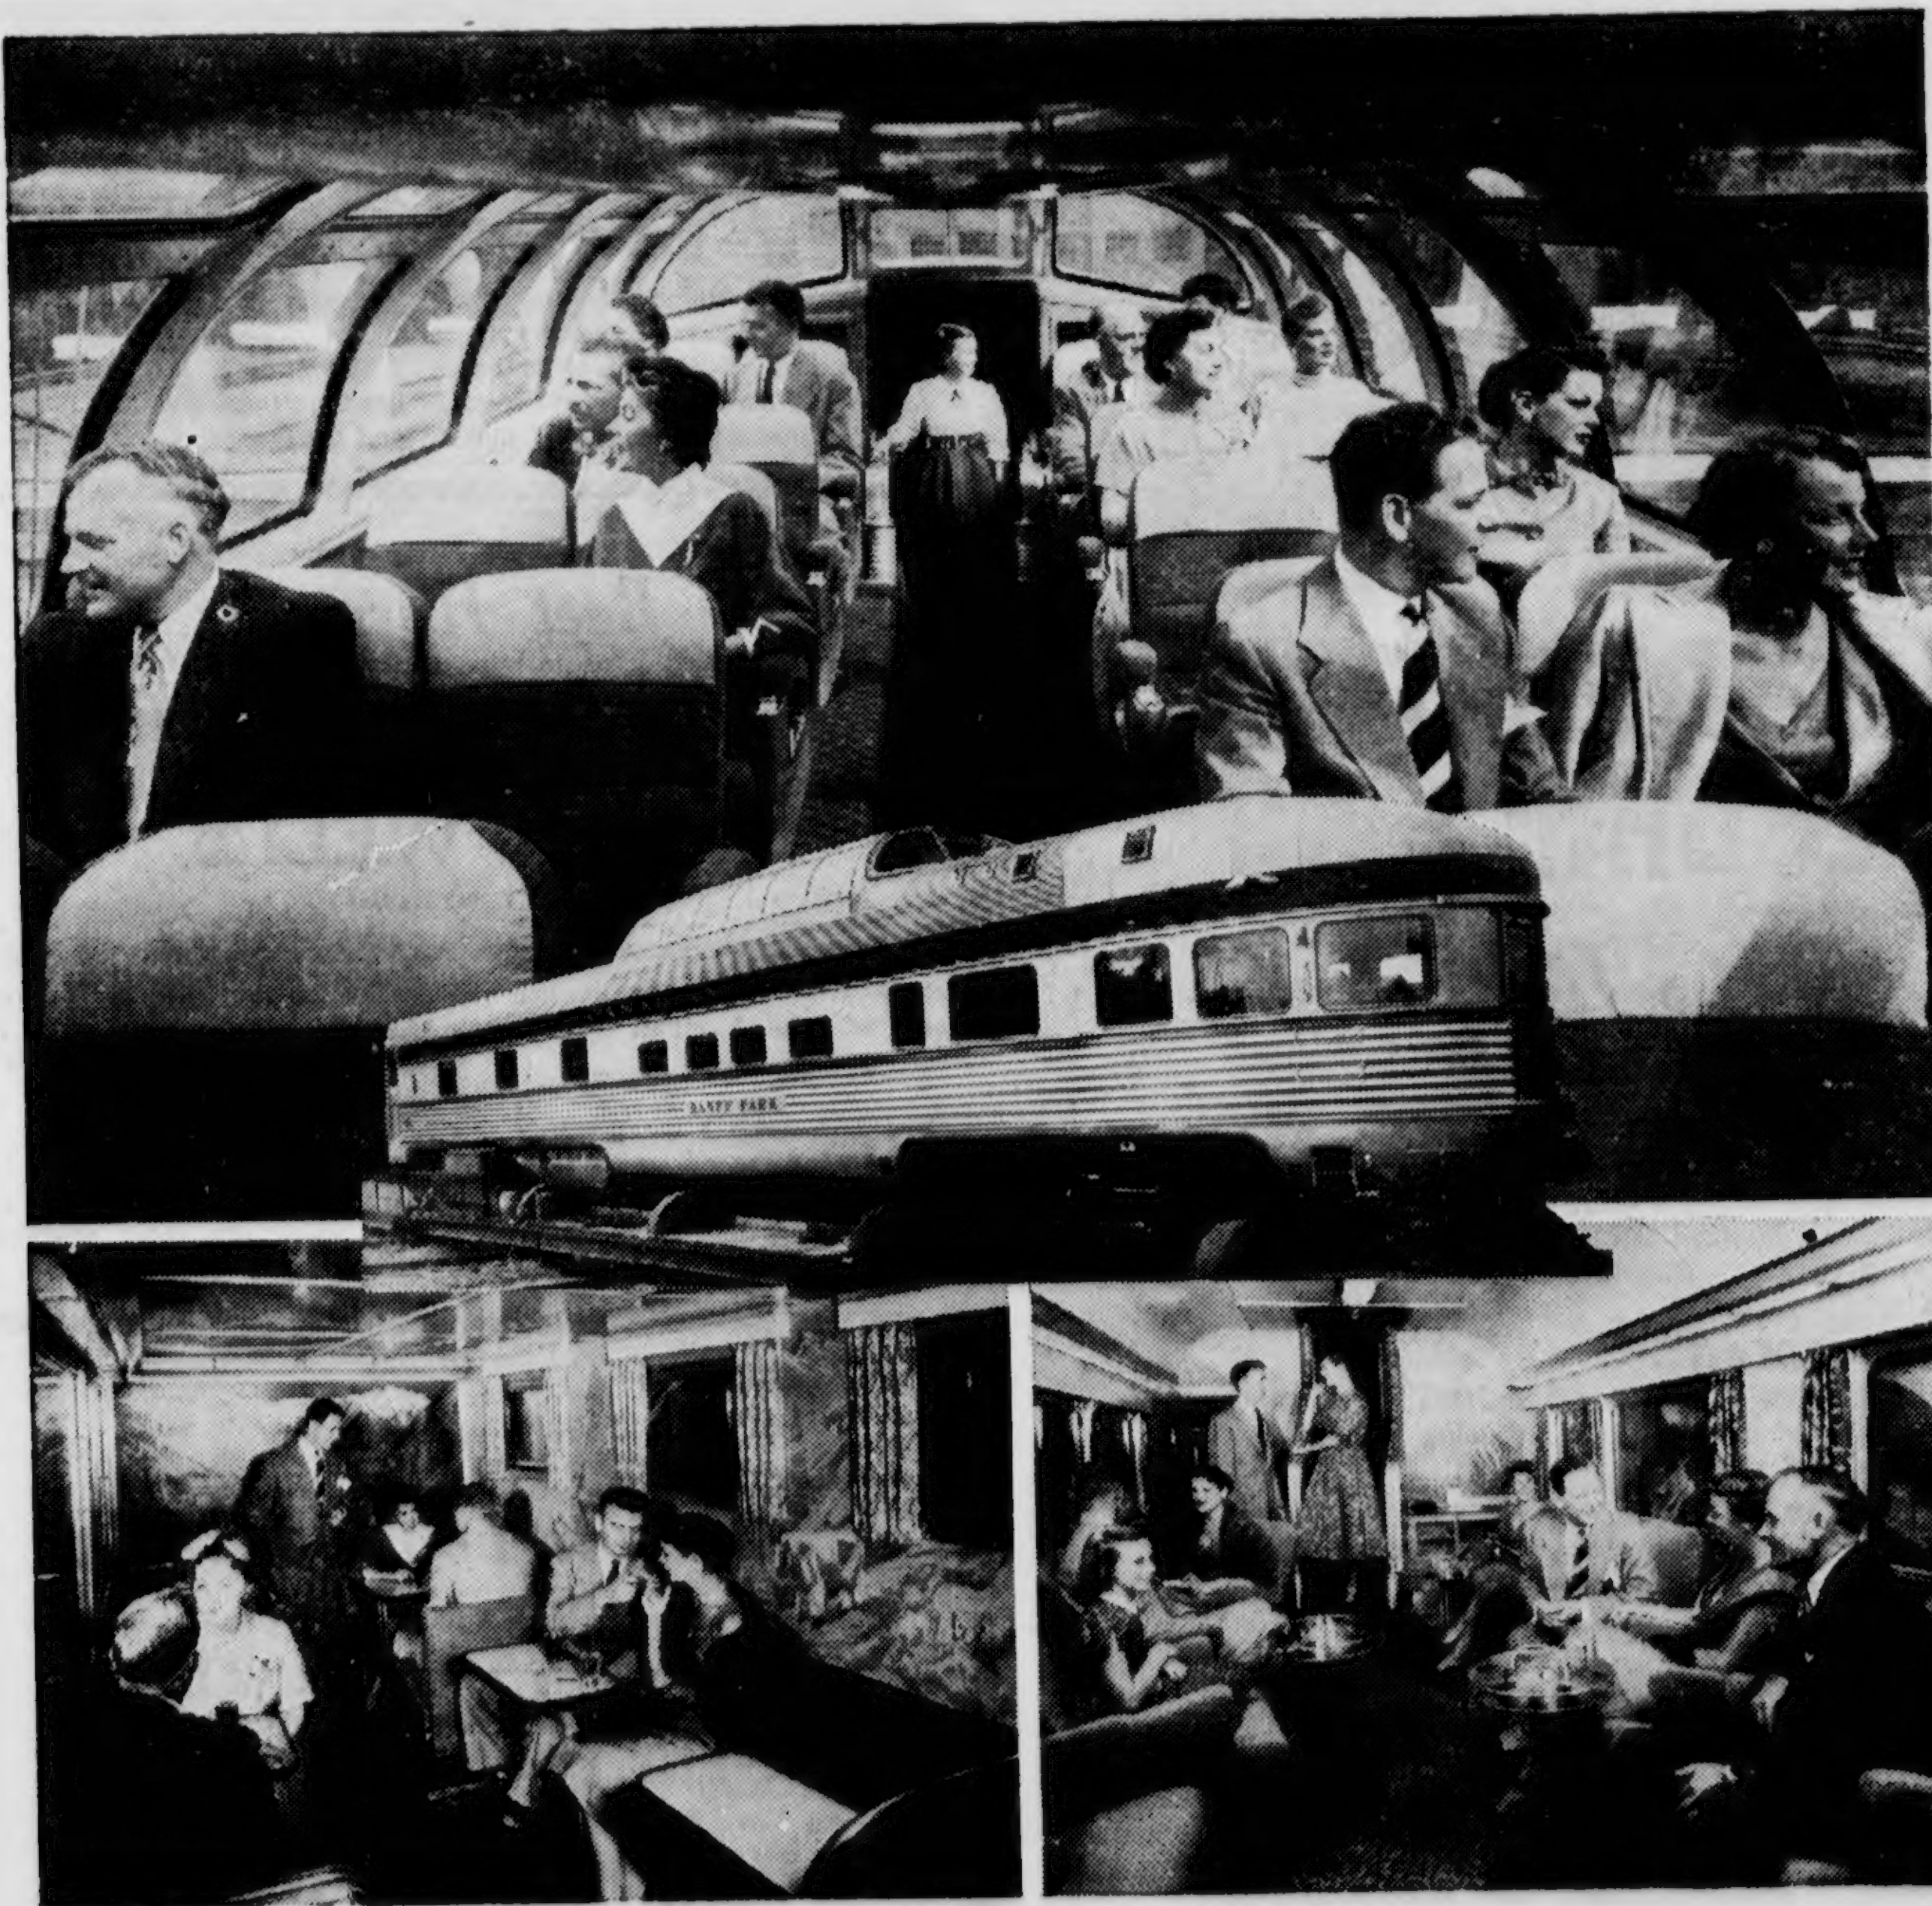

The guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fairbanks and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fairbanks Jr. with Norma Turner presiding at the guest book. The gifts were arranged by Barbara, Mary, and Margaret Rodeback and Donna Rae Garner.

Assisting at the buffet table were Mr. and Mrs. Scott Salmon with Joyce Stevenson, Joanne Salmon, Myrna Hancock and Eva Dahl helping. Those working behind the scenes were Mabel Salmon, June Fawns, Avida Heggie, Enid Dahl, Villa Garner, Irene Holladay and Fern Spackman.

The base of the lovely three tiered wedding cake was nestled in white tulle and pink and mauve satin ribbon was draped around the table adding color interest.

Before the entertaining program emceed by Derald Miller commenced, the bride and groom took their place of honor to the strains of the wedding march played by Emma Dahl. An opening prayer was offered by Bishop Jensen after which the Raymond Music Club sang "Sweet and Lovely" followed by "The Marriage Prayer" by Betty Evans. After Monette Holmes' rendition of "Love Is Kind", Gen Laura and Jeanine sang "Your Eyes Have Told Me So". A number by Bach was played by Robert Holmes on the violin after which Evelyn Melchin sang "The Temple of Our Fathers" followed by "I Walk Beside You" by Tom Holmes. Tributes to the bride were made by Bishop Dahl and Morgan Pitcher of Edmonton, at whose home Hazel lived while in the city. The response was made by the groom after which Bishop Hicken closed with prayer.

Before leaving on their honeymoon trip to Waterton, Edmonton and Banff Mrs. Holmes donned a blue linen suit with white accessories. They are presently making their home on the Holmes farm prior to leaving for the BYU where the groom plans to study Engineering.

from the builders, the Budd Company of Philadelphia during the next year. The first of the new scenic dome cars is shown in the centre above, while top photo gives an idea of how Canadian's exhilarating scenery will be viewed by Canadian Pacific travellers Waiting in a steamship office to be interviewed for a job as wireless operator, a group of applicants filled the room with such a buzz of conversation that they were oblivious to the dots and dashes which began coming over the loudspeaker. About that time another man entered and sat down quietly by himself. Suddenly he snapped attention, walked into the private office, came out smiling.

"Say," one of the group called out, "how'd you get in ahead of us? We were here first."

"One of you would have got the job," he replied, "if you'd listened to the message from the loudspeaker."

"What message?" they asked in surprise.

"Why the code," the stranger answered. "It said: 'The man I need must be on the alert. The first man who gets this message and comes directly into my private office will be placed on one of my ships as operator.'"

DOG WITH TASTE

The young fellow walked into a clothing store and asked for a job. "Look," said the smart manager, "you can have a regular job here as soon as you sell this one suit."

The suit was really a dilly, light purple with white stripes and some red dots. But the applicant said: "O.K. It's a deal!"

About an hour later the manager saw him come running from the back booth, his pants torn, blood on his hands, and a wild look in his eye. But he panted out:

"I sold the suit."

"But you seem to have encountered quite a lot of customer resistance," the manager said.

"No, the customer was easy," the new clerk replied, "but I sure had a bad time with that seeing eye dog!"

The life expectancy of the average man has increased a lot in the last 100 years. Of course, a man has to live longer now to get his taxes paid.

Fifty miles an hour has been the maximum speed for night driving on Alberta Highways since July 1, the Provincial Secretary's Department reminded motorists today.

Previous speed limit was 60 miles an hour, either day or night, but amendments to the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act which took effect July 1 make the speed limit 50 miles an hour "When the vehicle headlights are required to be alight" or 60 miles an hour at any other time.

Other amendments call for an automatic suspension of a person's driving licence for 12 months on conviction of being in charge of a motor vehicle while intoxicated, and for six months if convicted of a charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol; second and subsequent convictions on the latter charge provide for automatic suspension of the driving licence for a year.

Also new since July 1 is the new section of the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act making it an offence to drive at such a slow speed as to impede or block normal traffic movement.

Operation of a motor vehicle while the driver's licence is cancelled or suspended calls for a sentence on conviction of 20 days minimum and 30 days maximum.

As an example of what water erosion can do, it has been calculated that the Mississippi River discharges 2,000,000 tons of soil into the Gulf of Mexico every 24 hours.

Alberta is called a "prairie province" yet three-quarters of its total area supports tree growth and over half is covered by permanent forests. The annual harvest of forest products exceeds $20 million.

The Khyber Pass, historic invasion route to India, again has become a crossroads of world events.

The 30-mile gorge still is a vital link in the trade of southern Asia, the National Geographic Society reports. Bright-colored trucks carry pomegranate and cotton from the north, and busses transport passengers. Inside or on their roofs, from Kabul, Afghanistan's capital, to Peshawar, near the southeastern mouth of the Pass in Pakistan.

Between sheer cliffs double-humped Bactrian camels still cross the pass, 3,733 feet above sea level, with bulky burdens. Vehicles use one road, pack animals another.

The barren, toilsome way is studded with pillboxes erected by the British during World War II. On the Pakistan side a railway winds to the border.

Few mountain gaps possess so many historic associations as this gateway to the plains of India through the Safed Koh Range.

For centuries migrating tribesmen and marching or mounted troops have threaded the narrow defile. Soldiers of Alexander the Great, the Tatars of Tamerlane, bejeweled Mogul potentates and their implacable enemies, the Afridi Pathans, all crossed the pass. Hard-fighting British and their local allies won fame as the Khyber Rifles for guarding its camel caravan traffic.

The cropleas, waterless Khyber still has its warlike tribesmen, but since World War II they have mainly feuded among themselves, leaving the Khyber open as a door of commerce between nations. There is an ancient reason for this: they are paid to keep the peace.

After a shipwreck, a doctor, a parson and a lawyer found themselves in a rowing-boat without oars. They drifted in sight of an island, but their only hope of landing was for someone to go over the side through the shark-infested sea and tow the boat to land.

Lots were drawn, and it fell to the lawyer. When he slipped over the side the sharks divided and made an avenue for him.

"An answer to prayer," said the parson.

"No, no, just professional courtesy," commented the doctor.

Several days later Adrian again rushed into the house all excited and exclaimed, "Mother, mother, she spoke to me!"
